FOREST MANAGEMENT

The Ganaraska Forest is owned and managed by the Ganaraska Region Conservation Authority (GRCA). Management of the forest is based on a number of objectives, including the conservation and protection of the headwaters of the Ganaraska River, the protection of heritage resources in the forest, the maintenance of the wildlife habitat, and the provision for outdoor recreation and education.

The production of wood products through the implementation of ecologically based resource management practices will continue to be an important component of the multi-use nature of the forest. Pine plantations, which make up approximately 50% of the Ganaraska Forest, are being converted back to natural forests through the process of selective thinning and harvesting.
